Know Your Rights

When working part time, it is important that you are aware of your rights as a worker. Below is some key information to take on board.

The National Minimum Wage

The national minimum wage is the minimum pay per hour that almost all workers are entitled to by law. When accepting a job offer, it is important to ensure you are being paid at least this minimum wage. Current rates can be found by visiting www.gov.uk/national-minimum-wage

The Working Time Regulations

As a part-time worker you are entitled to:

- a rest break at work if you are working 6 hours or more
- a limit of working no more than an average 48-hours a week
- a minimum of 5.6 weeks' paid holiday per year pro rata – so 5.6 times your weekly working hours
- For more information please visit www.gov.uk/maximum-weekly-working-hours.

Tax

University students are treated the same as all other workers in relation to paying tax. Each working individual has an Income Tax Personal Allowance in a tax year. If you earn less than this you will not need to pay tax. To find out more about the allowance and paying tax, please see www.gov.uk/topic/personal-tax/income-tax and www.gov.uk/income-tax pages.

International Students

International students studying in the UK on a Tier 4 visa have working restrictions, including a limit on how many hours they work and that they cannot be self-employed. Most students are permitted to work a maximum of 20 hours in any 7-day period during term time. For full details visit www.lboro.ac.uk/students/enquiries/tier4work/
