

Ethics Committee

Subject: Training on Ethical Issues

Origin: Dr Brigette Vale

Action Required: Ethics Committee is asked to consider the training provision below and to offer comment

The Ethics Committee requested information on the training available within the University to staff and students on ethical issues.

At present the Graduate School and Research Office (Heather Dalglish/Zoe Stockdale) provide a joint training session for research students entitled 'Ethical Thinking in Research'. This is also open to research staff.

The Research Office (Zoe Stockdale) provides an introductory session on ethical procedures in the 'Introduction to Research Support Services at Loughborough'.

Zoe also provides training sessions/presentations to Schools/Departments on request. In 2012/13 she gave a presentation to students in the School of the Arts and to students in the School of Social, Political and Geographical Sciences.
