

Useful Websites for careers with a Computer Science degree

Computer Science graduates can apply to many areas of work, both within and outside the IT sector; and with the rapid rate of change in the sector and skills shortages, there are plenty of opportunities for you to develop and shine in.

Company websites

Below is a list of some of the companies that typically recruit Computer Science students for placements or graduate roles. Don't forget we update our vacancy portal, Careers Online daily where many relevant vacancies can also be found.
